Eliya Pagelli, Lucerne University of Teacher Education

Spatial designers Eliya Pagelli and David Haas, and object designer Nils Rolli, present two projects developed as part of their role as higher education spatial developers at the Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Arts (HSLU DFK): the foyer as the heart of the university, and the community and learning space for the Digital Ideation degree programme.

The following topics will be addressed during the excursion: the university as an integrated system, a process-oriented approach, working collaboratively with students, collaboration with stakeholders, utilising internal university talent and resources, and spatial design as a strategic tool for universities.
